

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH

"Soon shall we have our fair
Visiting each other in public houses,
And crying with stentorian lungs
"Water, water, bring hither quick!
A pint of new-drawn and a brace of pop!"

The English poet long ago made this prediction, which has not yet been verified in England; but the Florentines have made a near approach to its fulfillment. The lately received European papers furnish the following item:

"Great sensation has been caused at Florence by an intended duel, with pistols, between two countesses, in consequence of a political dispute. One of these ladies had taken an active part in the war of Italian independence, and the other was the wife of a distinguished diplomatist. The combatants were on the ground, and the pistols charged, when fortunately their husbands arrived and put a stop to the affair."

We have not entered the army of advocates of "woman's rights," as claimed of late by some respectable "elderly ladies" of both sexes; yet we are prepared to maintain that women have as good a right to fight duels as men have.

An English writer recommends the British Government to take upon itself the business of insurance in all its branches. He estimates that the Government would be able to pay all its expenses out of the profits arising therefrom, and thus relieve itself from its present heavy burden of taxation.

Mr. Geo. Thompson, M. P.—The English papers say that this gentleman is severely censured for absenting himself from his parliamentary duties. The electors of the Tower Hamlets are quite dissatisfied with his conduct. It is believed that many in this country also disapprove of Mr. Thompson's course. He is unfortunate, quite.

Commerce of Boston.—It is stated in the Boston Post as probable that more than a million of dollars in sales have been lost to Boston this season, on account of the impression among Southern merchants that Boston would not sustain the compromise measures. Our sympathies are not much excited with reference to the commercial fact here stated, but the reason given is one for which every patriot should grieve.

Boston Common.—We are all familiar with its name, and may form some idea of its extent when we learn that the number of trees on it, according to a recent official statement of the Mayor, is 12,550; of which 664 are American elms, 250 fir, and 63 linden trees.

A Census Curiosity.—Upon the margin of a population schedule, returned by a census-taker in Tuscaloosa county, Alabama, the following note refers to Mr. and Mrs. H., and says: "Joseph is 35 years old, Eliza is 31. Eliza has ten children living and three dead, and a fair prospect for another."

Digitized Men.—A cit in a country town, a midshipman on quarter-deck, and a school committee on examination day.

DELAWARE COLLEGE.

THE Faculty of Instruction of this Institution, under its present organization, consists of the following Professors:

A Professorship of Mental and Moral Science,
A Professorship of the Greek and Latin Languages,
A Professorship of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy,
A Professorship of Rhetoric and Belles-Lettres,
A Professorship of Chemistry and Natural History,
A Professorship of Anatomy and Medicine,
A Professorship of Modern Languages and Drawing.

The Collegiate year is divided into two sessions or terms of twenty-one weeks each. The first session commences on the fourth Wednesday of October, and the second on the fourth Wednesday of April. Each is followed by a vacation of five weeks.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

FRESHMAN CLASS.—I. Latin; Xenophon's Anabasis; Algebra; Geometry; History; Rhetoric.

III. The Constitution of the United States; Astronomy; finished; The Science of Heat; Thermo-Electricity; Chemistry; and Geology.

PHILOSOPHICAL APPARATUS.

The College is provided with a Philosophical Apparatus that furnishes simple means of experimental illustration in all the branches of Natural Philosophy. The apparatus of three thousand dollars has recently been expended, partly in this country and partly in London and Paris, in the purchase of new apparatus, adapted to the present advanced state of the Physical Sciences.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of each study, or branch of study, the members of the class are carefully examined, and at the close of the year, in all the studies, the Trustees, and their attendants are communicated to the Board of Trustees.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

In addition to daily morning and evening prayer, divinity is taught in the College. The instruction on Monday morning is always in the Greek Testament. At the request of his parent or guardian, a student is permitted to attend any place of worship which he may select. One member of the Faculty will attend at each of the different places of worship (Presbyterian, Episcopal, and Methodist) in the city of Philadelphia.

Two at least of the Professors, with their families, will reside in the College buildings, and will board at a common table with the students, and will be accessible to all who may wish to be assigned them by the Faculty.

ADMISSION.

In order to admission to pursue the entire course, a student must be at least fourteen years of age; must give satisfactory evidence of good moral character; and must attain to the following minimum in the following studies: Arithmetic, Elements of Algebra, Latin and Greek Grammar, Cicero's De Officiis, and the first book of Xenophon's Anabasis, or Homer's Odyssey, Latin Reader, Sallust or Cicero's Speeches, orations, and Virgil, or what shall be deemed equivalent.

EXPENSES.

ENTRANCE FEE.—If the student enter as Freshman, five dollars; if as Sophomore, ten dollars; if as Junior, fifteen dollars; if as Senior, twenty dollars.

Tuition 1st Session, 2nd Session.
Room rent $2 00 $2 00
Incidental expenses 4 00 4 00
Use of Library 1 00 1 00
Fuel for Oratory and Recitation room 1 00
Fuel for the students at cost. A sum equal to the cost of the fuel is advanced by each student; if more is consumed it is charged to him; if less, the balance is refunded.

Students furnished with the families of the Professors at $200 dollars per week.

All dues are payable in advance. The tuition is remitted on application to the following studies designed for the Ministry.

The tuition fee for Modern Languages will be eight dollars per session, to be paid to the instructor in advance.

For students who do not design to prosecute the whole course required for a degree, a more liberal plan of tuition is furnished, adapted to the sphere and course of life of each individual, so far as such can be reasonably anticipated.

The studies of this Course are arranged under the following departments:

1st. A MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT, in which, beginning with Arithmetic and Algebra, the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the Mathematics, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

2d. AN ENGLISH DEPARTMENT, comprising instruction in Orthography, Reading, Elocution, Grammar, Writing, Composition, and History, conducted by the Faculty, and ending in the application to Natural Philosophy.

3d. A SCIENTIFIC DEPARTMENT, in which will be imparted an acquaintance with all that is necessary to qualify a student for the immediate duties of the counting-house, including:

1. Penmanship—By an original and popular system of this art, which invariably produces a bold, finished hand, and is adapted to the purposes of the accountant and business man.

2. Arithmetic—Comprising numerous abbreviated methods of calculation, including the Rule of Three, and other mercantile calculations founded on percentages; together with all such operations as are required for the thorough knowledge of the business of the counting-house.

3. Book-keeping—Single and Double Entry, by the most approved methods. A complete course of instruction in the art of book-keeping, including the principles and practice of the art, and the use of the various books and papers required for the purpose.

4th. AN AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT—Comprising a section of the course in the study of Agriculture, including the principles and practice of the art, and the use of the various books and papers required for the purpose.

5th. A TEACHER'S DEPARTMENT.—The course of study in this department is designed to qualify a student for the duties of a teacher in the common schools, and includes instruction in the principles and practice of the art, and the use of the various books and papers required for the purpose.

6th. A DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the modern languages, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

7th. A DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL HISTORY.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the natural history, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

8th. A DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the physics, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

9th. A DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the chemistry, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

10th. A DEPARTMENT OF METEOROLOGY.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the meteorology, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

11th. A DEPARTMENT OF ASTRONOMY.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the astronomy, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.

12th. A DEPARTMENT OF COSMOLOGY.—In which the student will be carried, serially, through all the higher branches of the cosmology, ending in their application to Natural Philosophy.
